The Parent Agency is a children's comedy book, which in my opinion is suitable for all ages. The author is a comedian but the book does not have many laugh-out-loud moments, mostly using more subtle humour. The story follows a normal boy named Barry, who hates his parents.

Goodreads

Barry's first contact with the Parent Agency, which tries to place parents, is very funny and upbeat. Having all of the characters in this alternative world be versions of the characters we met in the previous real world is a clever and entertaining touch and the author does a lot with it.
